

RESEARCH VOLUNTEERS

GET INVOLVED IN IDENTIFYING DATA THAT CAN HELP THE SUPPORT OF LGBTQ+ ARMED FORCES COMMUNITY MEMBERS

Research helps Fighting With Pride understand our community, strengthen our services and make sure LGBTQ+ veterans, serving personnel and their families can find the right support.

The Research volunteer is a flexible role, and volunteers may contribute from home or remotely, depending on the project.

You could help us:

- Research organisations, services and opportunities for the LGBTQ+ Armed Forces Community
- Identify potential partners and sources of support
- Research local events, groups and activities
- Gather information that can support our Veteran Community Workers
- Contribute to projects that preserve and share LGBTQ+ Armed Forces history
- Help identify gaps in knowledge, services or support
- Support evidence-based campaigning, education and advocacy

If you enjoy finding, checking and organising information, we'd love to hear from you.
